Kids Company - Philosophy

At Kids Co a unique combination of neurological and sociological research informs our practise.

School exclusion is for us directly related to behaviours that are consistent with Post trauma stress disorder (PTSD)

Our philosophy is to operate a breadth of educational and support services that are delivered in an atmosphere of empathy, trust and continuity of care.

Kids Company – Socio Economics

Many of the young people Kids Co works with have been profoundly affected by poverty. This is not only a material impoverishment, but also a psychological, spiritual and cultural poverty.

Although London is a city of considerable wealth, poverty is manifest through:

- High levels of intergenerational unemployment
- ‘Trapped’ on poor housing estates
- Ineffective or inappropriate infrastructure (hospitals, schools, welfare agencies)
